- Students practice judo for competition or recreation. In 1964, judo became the first martial art to be added to the Olympic Games.
- Judo consists of two types of grappling techniques—throws and groundwork. There is no striking in sport judo.

Judo is a great way to:

- Make new friends

The Judo Club offers:

- Two week free trial memberships for all beginners.
- Two regular classes—a junior class (age 7–12) and a senior class (age 13 to adult) - on Tues and Thurs evenings.
- An 8 week program on Mon nights for 5–6 year olds (beginning Sept 18).

In addition to regular classes, the Club offers:
